NYPSCB ANNOUNCES NEW CERTIFICATION PROGRAM BASED ON THE SAMHSA CORE COMPETENCIES FOR PEER WORKERS

The New York Peer Specialist Certification Board (NYPSCB) is pleased to announce the launch of a new certification program designed for peer workers offering non-clinical peer services to people living with or in recovery from mental health and/or substance use conditions. The New York Certified Peer Worker (NYCPW) certification program is based upon the SAMHSA Core Competencies for Peer Workers in Behavioral Health Services (2015), which was developed with broad stakeholder involvement and extensive feedback from both the "mental health consumer and substance use disorder recovery movements" (SAMHSA, 2015, p.1). The Core Competencies were intended to "guide delivery and promote best practices in peer support" and designed to be used "to inform peer training programs, assist in developing standards for certification, and inform job descriptions" (SAMHSA, 2015, p.2). To review a copy of the SAMHSA Core Competencies document, visit the NYPSCB website.

In March 2020, the NYPSCB embarked on the development of the NYCPW certification using the SAMHSA Core Competencies as the framework for the new program after identifying numerous trends around peer services, including the need for:

- a more rigorous certification program that better reflects the skills and knowledge needed by peer workers supporting people in or seeking recovery;
- a career ladder for peer workers that recognizes the full continuum of peers from trainee to advanced and supervisor level workers;
- an expansion of the pathways for obtaining certification and the creation of fast tracks for those already peer certified as a Certified Peer Specialist (CPS), a Certified Recovery Peer Advocate (CRPA), a Certified Addiction Recovery Coach (CARC) or other peer certifications;
- a peer certification intended for peer workers supporting people in recovery from mental health and/or substance use conditions that can serve as a model for the integration of peer services and peer certifications within the New York System of care and beyond.

The NYCPW program standards were approved by the NYPSCB in August 2020 and the NYCPW Job Task Analysis was completed in September 2020. As a result, the new certification program will officially launch in November 2020. Unlike the CPS which requires lived experience of a mental health condition, the Certified Peer Worker will require lived experience from a mental health and/or a substance use condition and completion of peer worker specific training, peer work/volunteer experience and completion of a written exam available in 2021. The intent of the new program is to expand the peer worker opportunities and integrate the existing peer certifications into the new program. However, the CPW program will compliment and strengthen the existing peer certifications and not replace them, as candidates will be encouraged to maintain their existing peer certifications if they choose. Those that hold active peer certifications such as the CPS, CRPA and CARC will be offered the opportunity to apply during the transition period from January to June 2021 at no cost, without completing the NYCPW exam and with a simplified application process. Details about the transition program will be announced in December 2020.

The Certified Peer Worker program will offer applicants the opportunity to get certified at 4 levels initially (CPW-Trainee, CPW-Provisional, CPW, CPW-Advanced), based upon the amount of peer work/volunteer experience and number of hours of peer worker specific training they have completed. The NYCPW Job Task Analysis identified 13 CPW Domains overall with three unique domains per level and a fourth domain: Professional Responsibilities. For details about the recently approved CPW Job Task Analysis, certification standards and levels of certification, visit the NYPSCB website for details. For questions about the NYPSCB or the CPW program, please email the NYPSCB Director mrosier@mhepinc.org
