Summary

In January 2016, the NYC Department of Health and Mental Hygiene (DOHMH) launched a demonstration project to achieve better outcomes for people with involvement with the homeless services, criminal justice, and the behavioral health service systems. Three Intensive Mobile Treatment (IMT) teams were developed specifically to serve persons with complex cross-systems involvement. The initiative was expanded in 2017 and again in 2018 and currently includes 7 teams. In January of 2020 the DOHMH announced it would again be expanding the initiative to address further need for such services in the community. It will be funding an additional 4 teams for a total of 11 teams across the city. CUCS was awarded 2 of the additional 4 teams. Both of its current programs will be expanded to include a second team.

IMT teams are hired, trained and funded to maximize flexibility and continuity of care for persons who were poorly served by more traditional service models.
